ALFONSO APPEARS UNAFRAID OF SHOOTING RUMORS

Paris, May 7.—King Alfonso of Spain arrived here today for a state visit to President Poincaré, in spite of rumors that he is to be shot at again.

Alfonso has been shot at so often that it no longer excites him. The last time he was in Paris, officially, was in 1905, when an anarchist hurled a bomb at him. Twenty-eight people were injured, but Alfonso was unhurt.

Several men were arrested recently in Barcelona and Bordeaux for plotting against the life of the king. They had fitted up a shooting gallery and were practicing marksmanship.

A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, adored by little statesmen and philosophers and divines. With consistency a great soul has nothing to do.
